NOTES

DECK 1
Several web sites state that the K-Series Space Stations have Phasers and Photon Torpedoes.
To cover all approaches, it makes sense to have some Phasers above and some below. Therefore, 3 Phasers are placed radially at the top of the central cone. They are spaced equidistantly between each of the 3 arms.

DECK 2
The Photon Torpedoes are also placed radially, and spaced equidistantly between each of the 3 arms.
A Jefferies Tube leads from this deck up to Deck 1. Also, Ladders lead down to Deck 3.

DECK 3
Photon Torpedoes are stored on this deck, and the loading mechanisms for the torpedoes are located here too. They raise the torpedo up to the launch tube on the deck above, to be launched as / when needed.
The Turbo-elevator starts at this level. Also, another Jefferies Tube leads down from this deck to Deck 4.

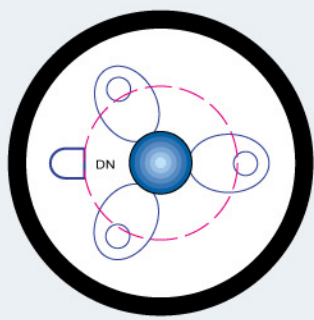

DECK 4
The Command Center occupies the forward half of this deck. All around it are sensors and stations. They collecting data for the Station Manager and the Command Center.
Stairs start at this level.

DECK 5
The Station Manager's Office is on this level, as well as the Receptionist's Office, a Waiting Room, a Storage Room, and a Briefing Room.

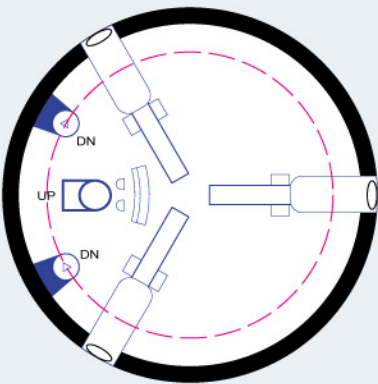

DECK 6
A wrap-around Lounge exists on this deck, as well as 2 smaller private Lounges and 2 Storage Rooms.

DECK 7
The first of several decks which contain Administrative Offices start here. There are also 2 Storage Rooms located here.

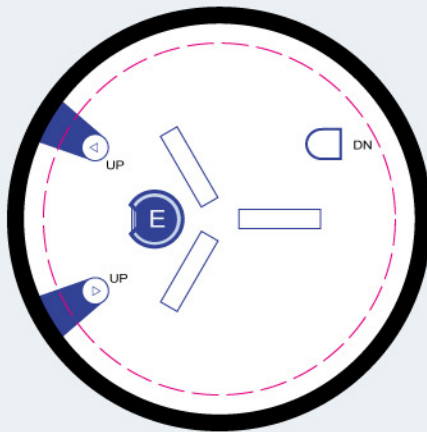

DECK 8
As above, the Administrative Offices continue here. Each one is slightly larger than those located on the deck above.
There are 2 Storage Rooms located here, and a Briefing Room.
