SYNOPSIS

In an effort to combat large-scale ground forces, The Federation decided to design a dedicated spacecraft for bringing front line troops into combat. To this end, the designers at Starfleet R&D developed the Battle cruiser. A ship with the space on board designed to accommodate large numbers of troops and equipment. The primary purpose of the Battle cruiser is troop deployment. As a secondary role, the battle cruisers can also act in a support platform to assist planetary forces by engaging planetary emplacements that would normally entail the use of heavy equipment and or ground vehicles that may otherwise be engaged with other duties.

The ship's primary weapons also act as a defense platform for the ship to be able to defend itself against defensive forces around a planet and or space-based defense systems such as satellites and orbital mines.

The ship itself is designed to hold large numbers of ground troops for deployment. This includes a full Regiment made up of 1,484 troops, 12 combat shuttlecraft, and 6 Heavy Combat Shuttle craft.

The preliminary results of the design have proven fruitful in that the ships have performed to the specifications of the design. The ships are able to deploy large numbers of troops in the battalion range in a very short period. The ships are equipped with the typical aft facing shuttle bays, but with a larger capacity then the standard bay in order to facilitate the large deployment craft for equipment and supplies.

Due to the nature of the ships. They would normally not go into a potentially hazardous area without support vessels or more than one battle cruiser by itself. Typically three to four small destroyers should the need arise to send a ship on an extended mission to a planet. Otherwise the ships would be part of a battle group when deployed.

One unexpected plus for the Battle cruiser class ship was with the larger power needs for shuttles and equipment, the ship has the ability to act as a weapon's platform that can assist a battle group, unlike typical troop ships of the past that had very little weapons for defensive purposes. This allows a battle group to move out to a greater position to engage targets. With the advent of the heavier weapons, several battle cruisers working together would have the ability to work defending themselves as a larger force instead of individual ships.

One of The first ships of this type was the Coppertop Class Battle cruiser. The Ship itself was designed to not only allow for the deployment of Starfleet Marines. But also the deployment of heavy equipment and ground vehicles. The ship is also equipped with the forward mounted Multidirectional Phaser Canons located both Port and Starboard on the main super structure. This allows the ship to act as a space defense and support platform against planetary hardened structures such as shielded bunkers and spaceports.

The ships are also equipped with a more dedicated sensor system that is tied into the weapon systems. This allows for a more precise support during planetary campaigns for ground troops. With a larger hangar bay then on most starships, this allows the Coppertop class to carry a larger fighter compliment for support of landing craft in the event that there are transport inhibitors located on the planet and drop ships are needed to get troops into a campaign.

The Coppertop class of ships was designed as a war ship, which is uncommon to Starfleet in general. However, Starfleet R&D incorporated into the Coppertop class the ability for the ship to be converted over to act as a colony ship. This would take an overhaul of the ship's cargo and troop areas, but would allow the vessels to stay in service once the hostilities with the Klingon forces come to their end.

Generally, ground troops would only be deployed on these ships in regimental size when the necessity to move into a hostile area arises. In normal space explorations when the ships act as a diplomatic platform, the space generally used for troops and supplies would go unused except as needed by the ship itself for whatever purpose is deemed necessary. The standard marine detachment would consist of two full squads of marines on board the ship.

Starfleet sees the Coppertop class continuing to be a heavy workhorse well into the future without much change to the overall design.

Class Performance

To date, The coppertop has exceeded the expectations of Starfleet R&D. All of the ships in the class have handled beyond what had been expected when the first ship left its birth. As of now, no ship of the Coppertop class has been lost to combat or malfunctions.

The starship Uss Crestline Ncc-23424 has been assigned to Deep Space Star Base 1112 and the Marquez Colony for the academy training facility for command tactical course with the cadets.

The starship Uss Joboji Ncc-23452 has been assigned to the Starfleet testing facility at Deep Space Star Base 1036 for fleet deployment with various Transporter advancements and designs.

The starships Uss Isapur Ncc-23459, Uss Tudas Ncc-23508 and Uss Yilonayile Ncc-23528 have been reassigned to assist Capt. Oiloah at Out Post 60 in the Bobbing star system after the 7th planet experienced first a super volcano explosion then an unexpected cometary impact affecting the entire planet.

The starship Uss Imam Saheb Ncc-23472 has been assigned to Starfleet R&D at Deep Space Star Base 1036 for warp drive speed testing.

The starship Uss Seratou Ncc-23543 was assigned to the office of diplomatic Affairs at Star Station 1009 to assist with negotiations between to separate planets two sectors away after it was discovered that the ships name was similar to a word in both languages that means peace wind.

The starship Uss Uyalovo Ncc-23411 has been put into dry dock at Deep Space Star Base 1271 for a six month warp systems overhaul.

The starship Uss Taalba Ncc-23422 has been put into dry dock at Deep Space Star Base Ardmaleish for four month Shield systems upgrade.

The starship Uss Fadeyevskiy Ncc-23427 has been put into dry dock at Deep Space Star Base 1432 for phaser eight month systems upgrade.

The starship Uss Joboji Ncc-23452 has been assigned to Starfleet R&D for full ships experimental systems testing.

The starship Uss Healdsburg Ncc-23454 has been put into dry dock for a fourteen month thruster systems upgrade.

The starship Uss Roca Major Ncc-23458 has been put into dry dock for nine month deflector systems upgrade

The starship Uss Waisomo Creek Ncc-23475 and Uss Qades Ncc-23488 have been put into dry dock for seven month complete bridge system upgrade. This will allow for more stations that can be tasked as needed and maximize space on the bridge.

The Uss Camalioma Ncc-23516 has been put into dry dock to improve the ships structural integrity systems.

The Uss Nedernora Ncc-23533 has been put into dry dock after the ship was damaged while attempting to assist in repairs of a Vulcan communications satellite. The satellite had been brought onto the ships hangar bay and work had just begun to repair the satellite. All reports indicate that there was a power surge on the satellite that caused it to explode killing fourteen crewmembers on the hangar bay and extensive structural damage to the ship. Starfleet is investigating the incident.

The starship Uss Mechtet Tellef Ncc-23542 has been put into dry dock for sixth months for a complete medical ward up grade.

The starship Uss Untereubigheim Ncc-23546 has been put into dry dock for ten moth Impulse deck complete rework and design.

MASTERCAM DATA CENTER: This is where I got the initial cover photo idea to start this project.

Paramount Pictures and CBS television: For bringing me the inspiration for the work in the first place.

Gene Roddenberry (The Great Bird of the Galaxy): For having the idea of a future where all people could live together for a common goal. That of seeing what's out there.

All the Other Fans: Because we make this possible and keep the faith going to hope for that better future someday.
